World Policy Major Issue In Fall Elections

Wallace Will Discuss Topic In New York

LEADERS MAKE PLANS

(By Associated Press)
Signs accumulated today that foreign policy subordinated during wartime political campaigns, may become a major issue in this fall's congressional elections.

Secretary of Commerce Wallace has served notice that he, for one, intends to raise it directly when he makes a political speech in New York tomorrow.

He told reporters he will discuss what he referred to as the "Republican contribution to peace after the first world war and the one the Republicans might make after this war—if they get a chance."

Rumblings in the direction of making foreign policy an issue have come from the Republican camp.

Senator Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) sailed into administration policy toward Yugoslavia after Marshal Tito's army shot down an American transport plane, killing five aboard it.

Carroll Reece, G. O. P. National chairman, in a radio address at Detroit yesterday asserted that Democratic party policies are "dictated by an Allen-minded clique."

Missouri Republicans, in convention at Jefferson City, adopted a platform hitting at Communism as the Nation's greatest peril and describing President Truman as leader of an administration which permitted growth of "this ungodly ideological monster."

Missouri Democrats, also convened at Jefferson City yesterday, approved a platform calling Mr. Truman a "distinguished Missourian" who "in the tradition of the late President Roosevelt" is leading the Nation from a war economy to a peacetime economy.

Candidate-picking for the November tests goes on today with Rhode Island Democrats holding their nominating convention.

Advance indications were that they would choose between solicitor General J. Howard McGrath and Superior Court Judge Robert E. Quinn, both former governors, for a nominee to the Senate. State Republicans nominated Gurnee Dyer, a former Lieutenant Colonel of the Air Force, yesterday. The seat now is held by Senator Peter G. Garry, Democrat, who decided not to seek re-election.

In Connecticut, Republicans nominated Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin for Senator and Dr. James L. McConaughy, retired Wesleyan University President, for governor. Democrats do their picking next week. Senator Thomas Hart, Republican, chose to retire.

Five Democratic Congress members with opposition won re-nomination in Louisiana's primary. Rep. A. Leonard Allen ran two-to-one ahead of George S. Long, brother of the late Senator Huey P. Long, in the Eighth district.

The feature of Colorado's primary was the victory of John A. Carroll, backed by the CIO-PAC and other labor groups, over Thomas W. Nevin for the Democratic nomination from the first district. The state's four incumbent Republican Congress members had no primary opposition.

Clinton Horse Wins At Memphis Show

Hillbilly Jim, a two-year old walking horse owned by Pointer Stables, Clinton, took third place in his class last night at the $40,000 Le Bonheur horse show in Memphis which has attracted champions from a score of states.

Twelve more classes are scheduled there tonight. The Valley View Farm of Barrington, Ill., captured blue ribbons and sizeable purses in the two major events last night.

Coaches Meet At Wingo High To Map Season

Cuba High Added As Member Of Purchase Athletic Conference

The Purchase Athletic Conference held its regular fall meeting Monday night at Wingo high school, directed by A. J. Lowe, president, and principal of Cayce high school.

In addition to disposing of routine business, the coaches planned schedules for the coming year. The Conference declares a champion in basketball each season. A tournament will be held the first Saturday in February among the four leading teams according to the Dickinson system of rating. Fulton is the only member school which plays football.

Cuba high school was admitted to the Conference, bringing the membership to 12. Other member schools are Arlington, Bardwell, Cayce, Central (Clinton), Fulton, Fulham, Lowes, Hickman, Western (Hickman) and Wingo.

Conference officers for the year, in addition to Mr. Lowe, are Earl Darnell, Fulham, vice-president, and Adron Doran, Wingo, secretary-treasurer.

Cayce Home Ec Class Elects New Officers

The Cayce high school freshman home economics class has elected Charlene Brewitt as president; Elaine Rice as vice-president; Elaine Rice as secretary; Bonnie Kemp, chairman of the program committee to work with Sylvia Jackson and Earle Kemp; and Marion Scott chairman of the refreshment committee. Also serving on the refreshment committee are Lennie Hicks and Geraldine Smith.

The club will meet the third Friday in each month.

The sophomore home economics class at Cayce held its regular meeting last Friday. Mrs. John Graham, an English lady, was unable to attend the meeting as a guest because of illness.

He knocked off six squirrels with well-aimed stones during the 1946 open season. His home is at Rocky Mount, N. C.

YDC REORGANIZERS SEE WIN FOR DEMOCRATS NOVEMBER 5th

Joe Morgan, Paducah, First District reorganization chairman of the Young Democratic Clubs of Kentucky; and Pont Nelson, Benton, twice a candidate for First District Railroad Commissioner, were in lower Western Kentucky counties this week helping young Democrats organize for the fall campaign.

When the two young Democratic leaders visited Fulton and Hickman they expressed confidence that the Democrats would carry Kentucky this year.

The Young Democratic Clubs have not been active in this state since 1942. The war years took heavy toll of the young political leaders, but in recent months a concerted effort to reorganize has been made.

Mr. Morgan said that a young Democrat would be appointed as temporary chairman of each county in the state for the purpose of organizing for the state convention which is to be held early next month in Louisville. At this convention, counties will be organized to provide active leadership along with the regular party organizations in the Senatorial and Congressional races.

KFL Declines To Endorse Cooper, Brown

Unanimous Vote
To Withhold Support
Made At Owensboro

Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 11—(AP)—The Kentucky Federation of Labor will not endorse either John Young Brown, Democrat, nor John Sherman Cooper, Republican, in the campaign for United States Senator, it was decided here today by unanimous vote of the delegates to the Federation's annual convention.

Both have made "good" labor records during their terms in the Kentucky General Assembly, the executive committee of the Federation reported just before the vote was taken. The committee said Brown's and Cooper's records were studied by Robert Woerner, legislative chairman, and Edward H. Weyler, secretary-treasurer, of the A. F. L. state organization.

Fulton Youths At Bainbridge For Training

Bainbridge, Md., Sept. 10-3 Fulton youths have reported for recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md.

All were enlisted in the navy for two years at Union City, Tenn., June 30, and attended Fulton high school prior to their induction.

Grace Resigns OPA Position In Louisville

Will Practice Law
In Paducah; Once
Had Office Here

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11—(AP)—Joe Grace, chief attorney in the rent and durable goods section of the Office of Price Administration, said today he had resigned his post to enter private practice at Paducah.

Grace is senior attorney in point of service in the O. P. A. enforcement division. The resignation becomes effective Oct. 11, Grace said.

Grace is a native of Wickliffe, Ky. He attended the University of Kentucky and received his law degree from the Jefferson School of Law, Louisville.

He joined the O. P. A. in August, 1942, after serving that year as representative in the General Assembly from Ballard and Carlisle counties.

Later he practiced law in Fulton before rejoining the Office of Price Administration.

Simmons Is Full Professor At Syracuse U.

Former Fulton Man Was On Columbia Faculty 17 Years

Dr. Harwood Simmons, for the past 17 years Associate in Music in the faculty of Columbia University, New York City, has been appointed a full professor at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., where he will teach in the school of music starting this month. In addition to his teaching schedule he will conduct the 100 piece university band.

Dr. Simmons was born in Adairville, Ky., and spent his boyhood in Fulton, where his parents were active professionally. He attended John Fletcher College in Iowa, the University of Louisville, Columbia, and the Institute of Musical Art in New York.

He holds three degrees and is a member of Alpha Sigma Chi and Phi Mu Alpha fraternities. He has been conductor of the Columbia University band, the 101st Cavalry band, Brooklyn College band, the New York World's Fair 1939 band, New York State Symphonic band, and the New York City Symphonic band. He led the latter organization in over 500 public concerts from 1940 to 1942.

Fulton Family Harvests Honey From Private Bee Hive Today

Uninvited visitors who move into your house and stay for a period of years are apt to wear out their welcome unless they contribute to the family income occasionally. So Mr. and Mrs. Arch Gore of 205 Reed street decided to see if they could persuade their guests to share some of the good things they had stored away during their prolonged stay.

It wasn't as easy as you might think. The Gores' visitors are a swarm of bees that have established themselves above the front door of their house, and in order to harvest the honey laid up by the bees Mr. Gore and his son, E. V. had to smoke them out and mount a ladder to the hive.

By about 10 o'clock this morning they had taken over five gallons of honey and there were still more left. There also were hundreds of bees buzzing around their heads, and moving the swarm to a new hive in the rear of the house posed a nice problem.

Yesterday the Gores put a wire screen funnel over the entrance to the hive and captured over half of the bees, but they still haven't found the queen. Until they do, the rest of the bees aren't going to leave their present home.

Mrs. Gore said that the bees came to their house about five years ago and have been there since. From time to time new swarms were formed and left for new homes, but the great majority of the winged guests stayed on with the Gores.

CHICKS ALL AT SEA, MAKE GOOD SAILORS

Newport News, Va.—(AP)—Baby chicks made good sailors. UNRRA officials supervising the shipment abroad of many thousands of baby chicks from this port say the chicks seem entirely unaffected by seasickness and are chirping just as well at debarkation time as when placed on shipboard.

FLOUR, SUGAR PRICE INCREASES ARE PREDICTED BY OPA OFFICIAL

Washington, Sept. 11—(AP)—OPA officials reported today that flour prices will be boosted. Meantime, the agency raised ceilings on work gloves and window glass, stripped controls from a score of other items and got set to hike sugar prices.

The agency officials, who asked not to be named, told reporters the flour price increase is due to the works but declined to confirm or deny trade rumors that the advance will amount to 20 cents per 100 pounds.

Window glass prices were increased by 18 per cent while the pricing of work gloves was placed under a flexible formula, which permitted an immediate rise of three cents a pair. Razor blades, baby carriages and fountain pens were among the items eliminated from control.

OPA said the glove formula would allow prices to rise or fall along with costs of other cotton apparel. Prices changes will be made on the 25th of each month on the basis of fabric costs on the 10th.

Reports of the coming sugar price boost were confirmed by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson who said at Albany, N. Y., that the increase will be announced "in a day or two."

Textbooks Slanted Against Laborers, Convention Told

Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 11—(AP)—Kentucky must teach its school teachers how to educate the children, the Kentucky State Federation of Labor delegates were told here yesterday.

Patrick Kirwan of Louisville, an organizer for the American Federation of Labor Teachers union, told the delegates this and added that the laboring man's position is not given a favorable presentation in the nation's textbooks.

Kirwan said the average child leaves school to become a worker, yet is better prepared from what he has learned to become a bank president.

Kirwan said that many teachers use pamphlets issued by management groups in teaching their classes but said the teachers did not do so maliciously.

NYLONS ARE CLUE TO LOST PURSE'S OWNED

Billings, Mont.—(AP)—Mrs. Lydia Rust found a billfold in a street drain with the only clue to the owner's identity a nylon hosiery registration stub from a Billings store. She checked with the manager. He referred to the list of 6,000 registrants, found No. 3656 was in the name of Mrs. Francis Eby and wallet and precious registration slip were returned. Mrs. Eby got her money back, too.

Government Calls Lewis, UMW, Coal Operators Into Conference To Restore Mines To Owners

Farm Expense May Exceed 1946 Income

Dana C. Card, U. K.
Recommends Economy
Program For Kentucky

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 11—(AP)—Farm expenses this year are likely to rise more than farm income, Dana C. Card of the University of Kentucky's Agricultural Experiment Station said yesterday.

Speaking to a Kentucky bankers committee, Card said costs of production are likely to rise faster or fall less than the price of farm products during the next two years.

Gross incomes were still rising faster last year, but expenses seem likely to rise more this year, he added.

Card recommended an intensive economy program to meet changes in prices and costs.

He quoted these figures: From 1939 to 1944, Gross Agricultural incomes in the United States rose 132 per cent, production expenses rose 86 per cent with net income from agriculture rising 205 per cent. However gross incomes in 1939 were 30 per cent less than in ten years, expenses were 20 per cent less and net income 40 per cent less.

Nation Anxious To Get Out Of Mining Business

(By Harold W. Ward)

Washington, Sept. 11—(AP)—John L. Lewis and a large delegation of United Mine workers district presidents met with soft coal operators today in a move to restore the federally-controlled mines to private operation.

The Government, anxious to get out of the coal mining business into which it was thrust by last spring's strike, called the parties together to see if they could negotiate a contract for themselves.

Most of the administrative work of running the mines has been performed by Navy personnel, headed by Adm. Ben Moreel, as coal mines administrator. Lewis voiced his usual "no comment" as he strode unsmiling into the big interior department conference room. He was flanked by a score of district presidents from areas East of the Mississippi river who form the subcommittee of the miners' scale and policy group.

Operators, headed by chairman Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland and Charles O'Neill of Altoona, Pa., likewise were non-committal about the prospects for reaching a settlement which would make possible a return to private operation.

It was the first miner-management meeting in nearly four months.

The goal is to try to negotiate a contract. Without one the government could not turn the pits back to their owners without risking another strike. "No contract, no work" is the miners' traditional cry.

The 56-day shutdown ended last May 29 when Lewis signed an agreement with Secretary of Interior J. A. King. Terms of that pact will form the basis for today's resuming negotiations.

Operators were reluctant to comment on the prospects of coming to terms with Lewis. He spoke privately of fears that he would make new demands. Lewis himself gave no hint in advance of the session.

The producers don't like all the provisions of the Krug-Lewis pact—mainly those paying the way for unionizing supervisory workers, and for a five-cent-a-ton royalty for a miners' welfare fund.

Edward R. Burke, head of the Southern Coal Producers Association which accounts for more than one-third of the nation's bituminous output, told a reporter he has heard no talk about taking the Krug-Lewis contract as is.

While there are several stumbling blocks, the big one appears to be the controversy over supervisors. Burke said his position remains the same as it was last spring.

"We are not going to surrender any supervisors until we're required to," he said, referring to an ultimate Supreme Court review of the whole issue.

Burke and many of his associates contended these employees are part of management and should not be eligible for membership in the Lewis union.

5,000 Miners Return To Jobs In East State

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 11—(AP)—More than 5,000 Letcher county coal miners began returning to work today, breaking finally a six week dispute at the Hemphill operation of the Elkhorn Coal Corporation.

Tom Roney, international board member of the United Mine Workers in district 30, said he expected full operation to be resumed in two or three days.

Roney said some 3,000 of the workers voted at a mass meeting at noon yesterday to return to their jobs after Deputy Sheriff Jim Short assured citizens that he would no longer work at the mine and was resigning as deputy sheriff.

It was Short's employment as "peace officer" at the mine that led to the walkout at Hemphill Aug. 2 and sympathy strike elsewhere.

Roney said he understood that Short moved his family "up Millstone Creek about 12 miles from the mine."

Flood Control Is Progressive Project

The Leader endorses the action of the Fulton city council in their passage of an ordinance providing for the straightening and widening of Harris Fork creek as a flood control measure. This ordinance is printed in its entirety on page four of today's Leader.

We feel that this project is long overdue—that it should have been undertaken a number of years ago. Now that there is definite groundwork laid, we hope that the project will be carried to a speedy and successful conclusion.

There have been a few objections to the flood control measure, but not enough to reflect any appreciable hostility among the large majority of citizens directly affected. At a meeting of the city council on July 18, called for the purpose of hearing such protests, only four verbal objections were made. Thirty per cent of the property owners in the drainage area would have had to file written protests with the council to force it to reconsider its action in passing the ordinance. The ordinance still could have been enforced by a two-thirds vote of the council if 40 per cent of the affected property owners had so protested.

Chief criticism of the proposed method of financing the project, levying a special tax upon property in a city designated drainage area as provided for in Chapter 22, 1946 supplement to the Kentucky Revised Statutes, was that the boundary of the drainage area was not properly fixed. However, the line of demarcation must be drawn somewhere, and it appears that most of the property owners in the area are well satisfied with the council's decision.

The burden on each individual will not be excessive, considering the benefits received. According to City Attorney James H. Warren, the special assessments will be less than 10% of the regular assessments for city taxes. The taxpayers also will be given about 10 years in which to pay the increased fees, using the installment plan if they wish. This should work little or no hardship on owners of the approximately 400 pieces of property in the area.

As a matter of fact, most property owners probably will save each year more than the increase in their taxes by elimination of flood damage to their buildings, merchandise, etc.

Much progress already has been made in securing the right-of-way for the drainage ditch or canal, which will be 35 feet on each side of the center of the proposed new route of Harris Fork creek. Rights-of-way are yet to be secured on six pieces of property in Missionary Bottom and 12 pieces of property in the business section of Fulton. Six of the latter 12, cost of construction, work and the amount to be paid for the property still have not been determined. In some cases the property needed for the right-of-way was given outright to the city, and in other the land was purchased on mutually agreeable terms. The city is hoping to see the contracts for the "ditch work" let by October 15 and the project completed before Christmas. The Leader hopes this goal will be reached, and hails the flood control project as a progressive step sorely needed in this city.

Political Questions Beginning To Clear Up

Everybody interested in politics can settle back now and wait for the big guns to be fired. Both Democratic and Republican headquarters announced yesterday that the official opening of the campaign for September 21 at Lancaster, Ky., in the sixth district, Democrats September 23 at Mayfield, Ky., in the first district, had been set. When political decisions as to the where, when and how have been settled, the rank and file can settle back and worry only about the questions of who and what for.

Campaign speeches are being prepared, issues are in the making. The political minded people are in shape for an interesting fall.

The politicians have been in a dither the past few days waiting for the results of the election of one of the other can Federation of Labor in Convention in Owensboro. The convention came to the conclusion today that both men had good labor records and the delegates voted to take no stand. Here we go.

Flying Trips Serve To Emphasize

(Paducah Sun-Democrat)

Senator Barkley knew whereof he spoke Sunday at Chicago when he said:

"In this era when oceans no longer constitute a moat around our castle and the smallest nation may destroy the largest, we must assume a wider acceptance of personal, national and international responsibilities, if civilization is to endure."

Senator Barkley had just returned from Europe, making the round trip by air. The experience served to emphasize his recognition of how the world problems will reach into every nation and affect the lives of its citizens.

Quick Action Needed

The Leader believes that Judge W. B. Ardery acted wisely in recommending that litigation concerning appointment of three members of the Kentucky disabled servicemen's board be taken to the Kentucky Court of Appeals for final ruling.

An attorney representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars contested the American Legion's right to name all three appointive members of the Board, and while the case was in court pay of new employees of the agency was held up.

The Leader believes that in all fairness to board employees the matter should be settled promptly one way or the other and the regular work of the board resumed.

Following The Leader

The Editor would like to introduce to the readers of the Leader the new high school principal, Wilson Gantt. Many of you no doubt have come in contact with him already and have been impressed with his pleasant personality. He is just as happy in his new job as his smile indicates. A jollier red-head you have never seen. However, there is the indication that the crimson would glow if the flame were kindled.

Wilson approaches his first year as principal of Fulton high with all of the zeal which a 27-year old can command. He comes to his present job from a year's experience teaching math and coaching basketball in the Sharpe high school, Marshall county. Three and one half years were spent in the Navy in both the Pacific and Atlantic theaters. He was serving as a Gunner Officer on a C. P. E. at the time of his discharge.

Mr. Gantt is a graduate of Faxon high school, Calloway county and of Murray State College. He and his wife, the former Virginia Collier, were high school and college classmates. They have a two-year old son who is affectionately known as "Little Red".

Gantt has an outstanding record as a student at Murray. He lettered in debating as a freshman and served as manager of the football team. His residence work has been completed toward a Master degree. This fall will be spent in writing a thesis.

Living as a hobby athlete, indicates his determination to cooperate with the coaches to produce outstanding teams in both football and basketball. He has expressed himself as being willing to do anything within his power to accomplish that end. The Leader joins the citizenry of Fulton in welcoming Wilson Gantt into our midst and pledges its support to his effort to do a good job as principal of Fulton High.

PIONEER ACTS, GIVES DATA, IN BEERY FILM

Oldest inhabitant of Jackson Hole, Wyoming, John Cyphert, age 92, assisted with his first-hand pioneer data on "Bad Men" new M-G-M Western drama co-starring Wallace Beery and Margaret O'Brien on the Malco screen today.

The new picture was filmed in the heart of the Grand Teton

National Park—last frontier of the old West. Cyphert did "double duty" on the production for not only did he offer technical advice but he appeared before the cameras as a member of the militia, schooner caravan which Beery joins in an effort to escape capture.

"This shore takes me back a spell," said Cyphert, as he spat out goodly chunk of tobacco. "I was in 1882 that I came out to this part of the country with my pappy in one of these here covered wagons."

The new picture casts Beery as a tough Bad Man and bank robber of the old West who meets his match in the appeal of O'Brien, playing a Mormon child on her way to Utah.

END OF GAS RATION CUTS CONSUMPTION

Wellington, N. Z.—(AP)—Abolition of gasoline rationing in New Zealand has had the unexpected effect of reducing gasoline consumption 1,000,000 gallons during the first two months of unrationed supplies. Chief reason is that during rationing all car owners bought all the gas to which they were entitled by coupon whether they were using it all or not. Now that supplies are not restricted they are using their stored gas and the service stations have been selected.

Chicks Even Series With 2 Victory

Go Extra Frame To Beat Chicks On Home Field

PLAY HERE TONIGHT

The playoff between Fulton and Owensboro is tied one-all after the Oilers 3-2 win in the tenth inning of last night's game. The teams come to Fulton tonight to play the third, fourth and fifth games of the series.

The Chicks got their first marker in the fourth on Peterson's two bagger and an error by Richards. They scored in the seventh when Brucella tripled to center, bringing in Lis, who had drawn a base on balls.

The Oilers got two in the fourth through four singles and a high fly. In the tenth inning McKee singled and Bueger followed with a clout over second. Fletcher got on base after being hit by a pitched ball.

Brown took a strike and a ball, then laid down a grounder in the infield to bring McKee in.

COACH RALPH HORNING (above) fondly views his 1946 prospects at Sturgis as the boys wait for transportation to the practice field. The boys like football so much they have practice sessions at 5 o'clock on Saturdays. The lower photo shows Horning, and his assistant, H. D. Holt, Jr., with one of ing has more than fifty youths out for practice—and they are big enough to deal misery to a lot of ball clubs. Horning is after another one of the teams he used to put out that perennially ranked near the top of the league.

Leading candidates for line positions include durable Captain Roy Hina, 164-pound guard; Alternate-Captain George Simpson, 150-pounds end; Bob Farthing, 170-pounds guard; Guy Newcomb, 165-pound tackle; and Billy Omer, a mere shadow at 220-pounds. Two ex G.I.s, Keith Hinton, 175-pound center who was captain and star of the team in 1943, and Jimmy Starrett, a 6'2" 180-pound end, are also due to break into the starting lineup.

Horning will deploy the same X-formation that brought him success. Ray Ellis at Madisonville, laughed at the set-up and said it wouldn't work. The next week I beat him with it," Horning recalled. "And he still said it wouldn't work."

R. E. Simpson, 152, will run from fullback, while 140-pound Doug Gregory will do most of the passing from his quarterback slot. Bill Stewart, 165, and Johnny Berry, 168, will run from the halves. Stewart will also handle the kicking.

Ben Quinn, a left-handed passer, Tommy Stewart, O. C. Quirey, and Max Stephens will all see action in the backfield. Assisting Horning is H. D. Holt, Jr., who will also aid in coaching the midget team which is being reorganized. Sturgis has 60 boys out for practice.

Organ has 13 lettermen back at Morganfield but his team didn't win a game last season. So the former Murray College grid captain is starting from scratch in an effort to formulate a winning eleven.

BOOBY TRAP BUZZES; DEPUTIES LEARN WHY

Rockford, Ill.—(AP).—A report that a booby trap had been placed in a chicken coop sent two men from the sheriff's office to the scene. They found a box. One of the officers nudged it gingerly with his foot. It gave forth a buzzing sound. Cautiously, then, the deputies turned the box over. It was a home-made bee hive.

ORDINANCE

WHEREAS a creek flows through the City of Fulton, Kentucky known as Harris Fork Creek, and

WHEREAS this said creek periodically overflows causing great damage to property in the said City, and

WHEREAS a survey has been made providing for the construction, improvement, straightening and widening of the said creek, and

WHEREAS it is deemed essential and necessary for the protection of property within and the health of the citizens of Fulton, Kentucky that a flood control and drainage project be established and authorized and that the area benefited be established and designated; and that the method of payment be provided, for the condemnation or acquisition of sufficient property necessary for such construction, the improvement, straightening and widening of such creek; the preparation and administration costs now owed or hereafter incurred, and the cost of construction, improvement, widening and straightening this said creek, and

WHEREAS the method and plan is to be and as designated in Chapter 82 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes 1946 Supplement, being Senate Bill 205 of the 1946 General Assembly and Chapter 94 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes 1946 Supplement, being House Bill 385 of the 1946 General Assembly, and

WHEREAS notice has been approved and published in the Fulton Daily Leader a daily newspaper of general circulation in such City, which set forth the area to be benefited and to be designated as the Drainage Area, and is as hereinafter set forth; and that a meeting of the city Council of Fulton, Kentucky would be held at 7:30 P. M. on the 18th day of July, 1946 at the City Hall in Fulton, Kentucky and which notice was published more than ten days before the said meeting, and

WHEREAS at 7:30 P. M. on the 18th day of July, 1946 at the City Hall in Fulton, Kentucky a meeting of the Board of Council was held and being declared open for protests or objections to the plan as designated, and

WHEREAS no written protests were filed, and objections were verbally made by four of the owners of real estate situated in the area to receive benefits by the proposed flood control system or improvement, and

WHEREAS this is declared to be less than 40 % of the owners of real estate in such area to be benefited, and

WHEREAS the survey prepared by Q. K. Bennett has been approved and ordered recorded in the County Clerk's office of Fulton County, Kentucky and filed in the City Clerk's Office of Fulton, Kentucky.

NOW THEREFORE be it ordained by the Board of Council of the City of Fulton, Kentucky as follows to wit:

1. There is hereby established a flood control and drainage ditch or canal and as shown by the survey plan, a copy of which is filed with the County Clerk of Fulton County, Kentucky generally described or beginning at the North side of an iron bridge on Highway 45 North of the City Limits adjacent to R. H. White's property; thence Southerly between Thomas and Reeds, through the property now owned by Jackson, Melton, Lyons, Hancock, Ingram, Patterson, Board of Education of Fulton, Kentucky, Armstrong, Patterson, under Highway 45 at the Concrete Bridge on Lake Street Extension; through the property of Scruggs, Dumas, Porter, Atkins, Melton, Tucker, Cowell, under the bridge on Burns Avenue and the Illinois Central Railroad right-of-way between the property of Little, Burnett, through the concrete bridge at Fourth Street Extension; between the property of White, and Hastings then generally in its present location to a point 320 feet South of the Kentucky-Tennessee State Line to Station 30 South of the said Survey. The right-of-way to be 70 feet wide at all places where it does not intersect buildings now existing and where such 70 feet intersects buildings, then, the right-of-way is to be of sufficient width to provide space for the proposed construction widening and straightening as shown by the survey or plan mentioned above and which proerty is needed and necessary for municipal purpose and to protect streets and alleys from overflow of Harris Fork Creek and to protect the health of the inhabitants.

2. The right-of-way provided above shall be acquired by gift, purchase or condemnation as provided in Chapter 94, Kentucky Revised Statutes, 1946 Supplement and Section 416.010 to 416.080 Kentucky revised statutes and the property to which deed have been executed and delivered to the City for such purpose by gift or purchase are hereby accepted, and approved. 3. The Committee heretofore appointed for the planning, administration of the project and acquisition of right-of-way are hereby authorized to negotiate for all land necessary for such project; and to purchase, if required at such terms as they deem beneficial to the City, sufficient lands for the right-of-way and if unable to contract with the owners for any lands or buildings or other right or interest within the proposed right-of-way then they shall report such facts to the City Attorney who shall forthwith file petition in the County Court pursuant to Chapter 94 Kentucky Revised Statutes 1946 Supplement and Section 416.010 to 416.080 Kentucky revised Statutes for the appointment of Commissioners and condemnation of the necessary property for the establishment of the right-of-way.

4. There is hereby established in the City of Fulton, Kentucky a drainage area, to include all of the property benefited by the flood control and drainage as set forth in Section 1 and 2 which shall include all of the property lying within the area bounded as follows to wit:

AREA—Beginning at a point in the West line of Carr Street at Olive's Northeast corner and Parrish's South East corner; thence West to Henson's East line; thence North to Henson's North line; thence West to an alley; thence along the East line of the alley to a creek; thence along the East bank of the Creek and with the meanderings thereof to Campbell's South line; thence West to the East line of Eddings Street; thence North along the East line of Eddings Street to the South bank of the creek; thence along the South bank of the creek to Stallin's East line; thence South to Stallin's South line; thence West to Stallin's West line; thence North to the North bank of the creek; thence East to the North line of Valley Street; thence North along Adam's West line; thence East along Adam's North line to the East side of Eddings Street; Adam's Northwest corner; thence East to Dawes' West line; thence West to Dawes' North line; thence East to a point in the East line of an alley which point is 118 feet North of the North line of Valley Street; thence South to the South line of Valley Street; thence East to the intersection of Valley Street, Carr Street and the East line of the Illinois Central right-of-way; thence South and along the East line of Carr Street to a point in Jess Field's line directly across Carr Street from the First Christian Church's North line; thence West and along the First Christian Church's North line and the South line of an alley to the East line of Eddings Street; thence South and along the East line of Eddings Street to a point directly across Eddings Street from Mrs. Malcolm Chamber's North line; thence West and along Mrs. Chamber's North line and the East line of Church Street; thence North and along the West line of Church Street to the North Line of the Illinois Central right-of-way (Fulton to Memphis line); thence North-easterly along the Illinois Central North Line to the South line of Fourth Street Extension at the under-pass; thence Easterly along the South line of Lake Street Extension and Burton Avenue to the East line of Thompson Street; thence North along the corporate limits to the South line of Reed Street, thence West and along the South line of Reed Street to the South line of Gholson Street; thence Southerly and along a ridge to Huddleston Street; thence West along the North line of Huddleston Street to Burns Avenue; thence West across the Illinois Central Railroad right-of-way to the West line thereof; thence Northwesterly along the West line of the said right-of-way to the intersection of such right-of-way with Carr Street and Valley Streets.

5. All of the cost for planning, administration, interest, legal expense, acquisition, purchase, or condemnation for right-of-way for and the construction, improvement, straightening and widening, the said creek and all other incident or necessary to the construction or acquisition and placing of same in operation shall be a charge against the property lying within the area as set forth in Section four. The total cost, as stated above, shall be assessed against the property benefited, as designated in Section four hereof in proportion that the assessed value of each parcel or item of property for City taxation shall bear to the whole assessed value of the property within the area for city taxation and as shown by the tax records of the City of Fulton, Kentucky where there is no such record, as in the case of public property or property owned by religious, charitable or educational institutions, the same (except that owned by the Federal Government) shall be specially assessed by the assessing officers of the City of Fulton, Kentucky.

6. WHEREAS the State Highway Department of Kentucky and Tennessee, The City of South Fulton, Tennessee and Fulton, Kentucky have agreed as follows:

That the respective States will pay one-half of the cost of construction of the said creek; will advertise and let the contracts and furnish the engineering and the City of South Fulton to pay for the cost of arranging and protecting the water and Sewer Main and line and furnish the right-of-way now along the creek within the corporate limits; and the City of Fulton, Kentucky shall furnish the right-of-way of land in Kentucky and pay one-half the cost of construction; now therefore the State Highway Department of Kentucky is hereby designated as the agent of the City of Fulton, Kentucky for the advertising and letting of contracts for the construction, improvement, widening and straightening of such creek and Flood Control and drainage project. Such bids to be advertised and awarded according to law of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

7. WHEREAS it is estimated that the total costs to the City of Fulton for the planning, administration, legal cost, surveys, plans, right-of-way, construction, improvement, straightening, widening and other costs incident and necessary thereto shall not exceed FORTY THOUSAND ($40,000) DOLLARS; and whereas certain of the property owners will need and want a deferred payment plan for the payment of the assessment against their property, now therefore bonds are authorized to be issued for the sum of FORTY THOUSAND ($40,000) DOLLARS; to be known as Flood Control System Bonds of the City of Fulton, Kentucky and such Bonds shall be sold from time to time as funds are needed and upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Council may declare by ordinance.

Such bonds and interest thereon shall be payable exclusively by the levy of a tax or assessment against the property benefited as shown in Section Four hereof, including easement, and as the Board of Council may determine. The bonds shall not be an indebtedness of the City, but the City hereby pledges and obligates itself to levy and collect sufficient and necessary taxes or assessments annually upon the drainage area for the satisfaction of said bonds.

Each of said bonds shall bear on its face the statement that it has been issued under the provision of Chapter 82, Kentucky Revised Statutes 1946 Supplement; that it does not constitute an indebtedness of the City within the meaning of the constitution of Kentucky; and are not subject to taxation; and that the City has obligated itself to levy and collect sufficient and necessary taxes or assessments annually upon the property benefited for the satisfaction of said bonds. The bonds shall have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments.

8. Bids and proposals are hereby authorized to be received for the issuance and sale of the bonds as described and provided above.

9. Upon the sale of the bonds and the receipt of the proceeds from such sale or sales, monies borrowed for the expenses of the planning, legal expense, plans, surveys, professional and technical service, acquisition or condemnation of right-of-way, construction improvement, widening and straightening of such project and interest shall be repaid from such proceeds.

10. Each year hereafter, so long as any of the said bonds remain unpaid a levy shall be made at the same time as other assessments are made for such city, and collected together with other City Taxes, against the property within the drainage area for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the discharge of the bonds and interest thereon as they become due, such fund to be deposited and designated Flood Control Bonds Sinking and Interest Redemption Fund.

11. Construction, acquisition, extension and improvement, straightening and widening of such creek or ditch for flood control purposes is hereby authorized and ordered.

12. Upon completion of the project and annually thereafter a levy shall be made against the property within the drainage area, to be assessed and due with other City taxes for the purpose of providing a fund for the maintenance and operating the project, and such assessment shall be against each parcel and item of property in proportion as such annual costs shall bear to the total of the property assessed in such drainage area and as provided in Section six hereof.

13. Gifts of property, monies or other thing beneficial to the project, its construction or maintenance are hereby approved and accepted from any individual, firm or corporation. Approved this 5th day of August, 1946.
